

Situation	Embedded-ness	Resources	Approach
UG DL Pre sessional For self / supported study. Funded materials writing time.	 Part of departmental writing team. EAP teachers set and write final exams.	Complete suite of Management courses on-line and student writing examples. Examiner's meetings	Trawling and Concordancing and other forms of text analysis. Piloting on live courses in EAP Department.
IP Law Masters Academic writing support unit delivered in-sessionally, as strongly recommended parts of the Semester 1 course. Partly funded materials writing time.	 The Law course DOS was involved in the inception and even attended an EAP teacher training session. Assessment was jointly decided and marked by Law and EAP tutors.	On-line resources and required reading lists. Assessment questions	Law tutor provided lists of perceived writing and language problems for previous course students. Language tutor analysed initial piece of writing from students to connect course requirements with student needs.
PG Module on Visual Imaging and Robotics course Classroom delivered English writing and presentation support course -1 Semester. On the hoof preparation during first run of Module.	 Credit bearing Academic Writing/ presentation module. Lecturers involved (but elusive) including joint assessment	On-line resources for subject course. Examples of previous master's courses. Students' own selection of articles brought in at beginning of course	Concordancing of resources Analysis of students writing and difficulties.
Pre-sessional materials suitable for a range of courses but with specific elements for courses	 Close co-operation between Language and subject departments. Subject lecturers give input on needs. Joint assessment.	Campus moodle online resources and student assignments.	Trawling Concordancing based on AWL Piloting on pre-sessional.

Situation	Embedded-ness	Resources	Approach
Pre-sessional materials UG and PG English for Science and engineering (Specific but unrelated suites of courses, e.g. Energy Studies/ Life Sciences) Funded materials writing time.	* Contact with lecturers available Access to exam scripts by negotiation	Campus on-line materials for students on target courses On-line School sixth-form course materials.	Concordancing supported by some consulting with 'tame' staff in relevant departments and and piloting on pre- and in-sessionals. Trawling and concordancing
5) Professional English Book targeted at MBA students around the world	None directly Team of expert reviewers (teaching on MBA courses) reviewed each chapter	Cambridge corpus Own corpus based on MBA course descriptors. Also texts encountered in researching individual units expert reviewer's comments	Trawled and concordanced For coverage and usage

References:

- Academic Keyword List accessed 20.11.2011 <http://www.uclouvain.be/en-372126.html>
- Alexander,O., Argent,S. and Spencer J., (2008) EAP Essentials, Garnett Education: Reading.
- Coxhead, A. (2000) A new academic word list. TESOL Quarterly, 34/2, pages 213-238.
- Davis,M. and Morley,J. (2009) 'The role of reusable phrases in postgraduate writing: multidimensional perspectives' in English for Specific Academic Purposes: Proceedings of the 2009 BALEAP Conference, edited by S. Etherington. Reading: Garnet Education, 2011.
- Hyland,K. and Bondi, M., (2006) Academic Discourse Across Disciplines. Bern: Peter Lang.
- Lakoff,G. and Johnson, M. (1980) Metaphors we live by. Chicago: University of Chicago Press.
- McKeown,A. and Wright, R., (2011) Professional English in Use: Management. Cambridge: Cambridge University Press.
- Nathan., P. (2009) Modal Verbs in business case reports. Proceedings of the 2009 BALEAP Conference, edited by S. Etherington. Reading: Garnet Education, 2011.
- Paquot, M. (2010) Academic Vocabulary in Learner Writing: from extraction to analysis. New York: Continuum
- Swales, J., (1990) Genre Analysis. Cambridge: Cambridge University Press.